

Dr. John Barr, 76, Dies Here in Rest Home

Dr. John Barr, aged 76, Presbyterian minister and founder of Caddo Valley Academy, at Norman, Ark., died Saturday in a local rest home.

Dr. Barr was born in Hope and was a graduate of Arkansas College at Batesville and Union Seminary at Richmond, Va. He had served 51 years as pastor of First Presbyterian Church at Norman. He also was pastor for 11 rural Montgomery County Churches for many years.

Dr. Barr established Caddo Valley Academy, the first high school in Montgomery County, in 1924. The school was closed last year.

The minister had served as state clerk for the Arkansas Synod for 25 years. He also was named rural minister of the year in 1948.

During the years, the minister had cared for many homeless and orphaned children at his home. Included among his charges was a boy who later became vice president of the Radio Corporation of America and another who became president of a soft drink firm in Delaware.

Survivors include a son, John Barr Jr. of Westport, Cal., a daughter, Mrs. Almond Faught of Jonesboro; a brother, H. B. Barr of Hope; and a sister, Mrs. Thura Ebien of New Orleans.

Funeral services will be at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Norman Presbyterian Church. Burial will be at Black Springs Cemetery by Davis Funeral Service of Glenwood.

Clifton Voss, of Fulton, Dies

Clifton Voss, 60, a longtime resident of Fulton and former building contractor, died Wednesday at the home of a son. He was a Mason, and member of the Moslem Shrine Temple, Worth Commandery.

Survivors include his wife, three sons, James N. Voss of Fulton; R. G. Voss of Boston, Mass.; and Clifton Voss Jr. and a brother, Rev. P. A. Voss of La Porte. Services were Thursday.

Communists End Another Conference

By CARL HARTMAN

BERLIN (AP)—Walter Ulbricht, East German Communist leader, ended his party's sixth congress today with a warning to West Germany not to put too much trust in the United States.

The spade-bearded Red chief-tain said events in Cuba have shown there is a new power in the world the United States cannot defy. He made plain he meant that power is the Soviet Union.

Ulbricht asked for talks with West Germany on a basis of equality with a view to federating the two parts of the country and eventually reunifying them.

This is an old demand, repeatedly rejected in the West. East Germany's satellite regime rules 17 million people—a third as many as there are in West Germany—and has never held a free election.

The windup came after a week highlighted by the clash between Khrushchev and the Communist Chinese for leadership of the world Communist movement.

Chinese delegate Wu Hsiu-chang was in his front row seat for Ulbricht's address.

In Moscow, the Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda published for the first time almost the complete text of Wu's speech to the congress last Friday, attacking Soviet policies.

Fire Destroys Owen's Store at Nashville

NASHVILLE, Ark. (AP)—A stubborn fire raged out of control Sunday night and early today leveling one of Nashville's largest department stores.

The fire was discovered about 9:15 Sunday night at Owen's Department Store, and wasn't brought under control until after dawn today. Firemen said it began at the rear of the one-story brick building and burned all the way to the front. The roof of the building collapsed.

There was no estimate of damage, but firemen said the building was a total loss. Cause of the fire was not determined.

Nashville volunteer firemen battled the fire, which at times threatened buildings on both sides of the street.

Ben Owen of Hope, who owns the store, estimated damage of $30,000 to $40,000 in merchandise. Damage to the building was estimated at between $8,000 and $10,000.

C. C. Propps, store manager, said the fire may have started from an overhead heater.

Two nearby grocery stores were damaged by smoke. They were threatened by the fire for a time, but volunteer firemen kept the flames from spreading. They worked in 12-degree weather.

Escapee Caught

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—Joseph Hoyt Merritt, 22, who escaped from the Arkansas State Prison last Dec. 4, is being held here on an open charge in connection with the armed robbery last Friday of a movie theater, Police Chief Bill Know said. The chief said the bandit used a .22-caliber pistol in taking $97 from the theater box office.

Child to Undergo Heart Surgery

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Carol Ann Todd, 3, of Prairie Grove, Ark., is scheduled to undergo heart surgery at Texas Children's Hospital here this morning.

Surgeons said Saturday they believed only one operation would be necessary to close a congenital opening in the wall of the little girl's heart.

A 24 to 48 hour wait will be necessary to determine whether the operation was a success, surgeons said.

The surgery was made possible by a fund drive co-ordinated by the Northwest Arkansas Times of Fayetteville.

Cold Winds, Snow Bury British Isles

By ANTHONY WHITE

LONDON (AP)—Freezing winds and snow whipped across Britain today, burying the shivering country deeper in one of its worst winters in recorded history.

After almost a month of blizzards, record cold and searching winds, the nation was running short of fuel and electric power. Its railroads were struggling and its road network was in chaos.

More than 100 major highways in 80 of Britain's 86 counties were blocked by snowdrifts and treacherous ice. Virtually the entire country lay beneath a thickening crust of snow that has been there since Christmas.

The Thames River froze bank to bank at Kingston. It was the first time since 1895 that the river has frozen so far downstream.

Searchers looked for three men feared dead beneath avalanches in the Pennine hills of northern England.

Snow and ice on runways forced British European Airlines to cancel 44 flights out of London Airport Sunday.

Trains between London and the suburbs ran hours late. The intense cold froze the wheels of some trains to the tracks.

Italy also continued to take a beating from the weather. Freezing temperatures gripped the peninsula after a weekend of snow and rain. Four persons died in unheated homes.

Venice's lagoon was frozen over. Icicles formed on Rome's famous fountains. In the Apennines, snowdrifts and landslides disrupted road and rail traffic. Several villages were isolated.

Bob Hester Goes to Trial for Murder

Robert N. (Bob) Hester, 54 of McNab, was scheduled to go on trial today in Hempstead Circuit Court in connection with the October 21 fatal shooting of Phillip Knighton, 41, also of McNab. A jury was being selected in the murder trial Monday morning.

The shooting occurred on a Sunday near on a rural road near the Yellow Creek Club. There were no witnesses. Following the shooting Hester surrendered to Constable Jim Moore at Fulton who brought him to the Hempstead Sheriff's office.

Knighton was shot three times and officials found his body near the road. Hester told officers at the time that Knighton pulled a knife on him following an argument when the two met.

In court last week Charles E. Biddle, McNab, pleaded guilty to burglary was placed on probation. Tammy Lee Biddle, his brother, was committed to the Arkansas Boys Home.

Dock Workers Accept U.S. Proposals

NEW YORK (AP)—Negotiators for striking longshoremen have accepted a presidential board's proposals to end the month long, Maine-to-Texas dock tie-up. Ship owners deferred action until Tuesday.

The board's proposal for a 39-cent-an-hour package increase over two years—including 24 cents in wage boosts—was accepted Sunday night by negotiators for union longshoremen who work in ports from Norfolk, Va., northward.

A union spokesman said that even if ship owners and stevedoring companies accept the proposal the strike could not be considered over until dockworkers along the Southeast and Gulf coasts get the same offer.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., chairman of a mediation board appointed by President Kennedy, observed that the New York pact traditionally sets the pattern for other ports which sign separate contracts.

Federal mediators meet here again today with union and management representatives from South Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports. The representatives will return to their home ports for full dress negotiations.

The strike by 60,000 longshoremen has paralyzed most East and Gulf Coast shipping for 30 days. It has idled some 20,000 other workers, including about 10,000 truck drivers in the New York area.

Because more than 550 ships are stalled with no one to load or unload cargo, an estimated 20,000 railroad boxcars are backed up along the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts.

Losses due to the strike are nearing the $600-million mark.

The board's package proposal was 11 cents less than the longshoremen had asked and 17 cents more than the industry had offered.

Alexander P. Chopin, chief negotiator for the shipping association, said the recommended settlement represented "a $25-million package for the port of New York alone—which is very high."

The mediation board recommended a 15-cent hourly wage boost retroactive to last Oct. 1, when the old contract ran out, and another 9-cent hourly boost next Oct. 1. The longshoremen's basic pay averaged $3.02 an hour before the strike.

Both sides, under the proposal, would agree to submit the issue of manpower utilization and job security to study by the Department of Labor.

Indians May Own Ft. Smith Land

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—A 13-block section of Fort Smith may be unallotted Indian territory and therefore belongs to the Choctaw and Chickasaw Indian Tribes according to W. F. Semple of Tulsa, a Choctaw tribal attorney.

The area in dispute is claimed by both Arkansas and Oklahoma—and residents of the area, known as Coke Hill, have been paying Arkansas taxes for years. The Oklahoma Tax Commission and LeFlore County, Okla., claim that the section is in the Sooner State.

Semple disagrees and says he plans to file a suit in Federal District Court in Muskogee, Okla., claiming the land for the tribes.

If the Indian claim is upheld, neither Oklahoma nor Arkansas can collect taxes unless the tribes sell the land to the businessmen and residents now occupying the land.

Allies, Russia Closer to Test Ban Agreement

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States, Britain and the Soviet Union appeared today to be closer to agreement on a nuclear weapons test ban than they have been at any time in almost two years.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev has removed a major barrier to serious negotiation by telling President Kennedy that he would accept two or three on-site inspections a year in the Soviet Union as part of a system to prevent cheating.

Reaction in the Senate, where a test ban pact would have to be approved, was heavily cautious. But the general feeling was that in accepting the principle of on-site inspection, Khrushchev's move was encouraging.

In an exchange of letters released here and in Moscow Sunday night, Kennedy told Khrushchev he was "encouraged that you are prepared to accept the principle of on-site inspections."

The State Department said the United States now hopes that discussions on the long deadlocked test ban issue "can be continued to a successful conclusion."

U.S. officials said Khrushchev's policy reversal could lead to a real breakthrough in the test ban negotiations. Whether it does will depend on whether Khrushchev is willing to increase the number of on-site inspections to double or triple the total he told Kennedy he would agree to at once—that is, two or three a year. The United States is asking for eight or 10.

Representatives of the three nuclear powers will reopen negotiations in a meeting here Tuesday afternoon.

The Kennedy-Khrushchev exchange covers three letters—one from Khrushchev Dec. 19, Kennedy's reply of Dec. 28, and a second Khrushchev message on Jan. 7.

Khrushchev reminded the President that they had agreed during the Cuban crisis to deal with the nuclear test problem at some later time. He said they had passed through the period of "utmost acuteness and tension" over Cuba and their hands were now untied "to engage closely in other urgent international matters."

While the Soviet leader thus linked this conciliatory move on nuclear testing to the U.S.-Soviet agreement on Cuba, officials here believe there is a strong possibility that Khrushchev is reconsidering his relations with the West in the light of his split with Communist China. If this is so, it could mean that he is entirely serious about putting an end to nuclear tests and would be prepared to make additional concessions.

At the United Nations, diplomats saw encouraging progress in Khrushchev's move, and in Britain a Foreign Office spokesman said: "This is obviously an important development, since in particular it accepts the principle of on-site inspection. But, as President Kennedy's answer shows, there are many problems still to be solved."

Tax Cut Best Way to Increase Revenue, JFK Tells Congress

Court Sets Up Rules on Civil Procedure

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court laid down today a big batch of new rules for civil procedure in federal courts.

The action was over a protest by Justices Hugo L. Black and William O. Douglas that the court was taking steps which the Constitution requires to be done by Congress and approved by the President.

The rule changes, covering 19 pages, are submitted to Congress but under existing law they will take effect within 90 days if no action is taken by Congress.

"We believe," Black and Douglas said in a statement, "that while some of the rules of civil procedure are simply housekeeping details, many determine matters so substantially affecting the rights of litigants in law suits that in effect they are the equivalent of new legislation."

A rule change to which Black and Douglas particularly objected deals with motions for directed verdicts in civil suit trials. As proposed by today's Supreme Court listing, the new rule would state:

"A motion for a directed verdict shall state the specific grounds therefor. The order of the court granting a motion for a directed verdict is effective without any assent of the jury."

Black and Douglas said they felt many of the new provisions abridge, enlarge or modify substantive rights and do not preserve the right to trial by jury "but actually encroach upon it."

The two justices referred to a statement in a Supreme Court dissenting opinion of some years ago that judges "have whittled or denied the right of trial by jury through the devices of directed verdicts and judgments notwithstanding verdicts."

They said that although the change drawing their particular criticism was not itself a momentous one, "it gives formal sanction to the process by which the courts have been wresting from juries the power to render verdicts. Since we do not approve of this sapping of the Seventh Amendment's guarantee of a jury trial, we cannot join even this technical coup de grace."

State Death Toll During Week 16

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

An armed robbery that backfired and the tragic end of a trip to church claimed two lives at Little Rock over the weekend, boosting the violent death toll for the state to 16 for the week ended midnight Sunday.

Ted Kaucher was taking his family to church when the car he was driving collided with a railroad train at a crossing three miles south of Little Rock.

His wife, Ruby Naomi, 54, was killed. Kaucher was seriously injured. Their daughter, Jeannette, 17, escaped with a broken arm and a son, Walter, 15, escaped with minor injuries. Kaucher's brother, Walter, 70, also suffered minor injuries.

The car was slammed into a signal pole several yards from the impact area.

A liquor store owner gunned down one man and wounded another to thwart an apparent hold-up attempt at his store in Little Rock over the weekend.

Clarence E. Page, 62, operator of the G & B Liquor Store shot two Fort Smith men. Police identified the dead man as Bill Foster, 27, and the wounded man was William C. Bramlett, 24.

Police quoted Page as saying the two men entered his store, ordered a bottle of liquor, and then Foster pulled a gun on him and told him to hand over his money.

Page got his pistol out as he opened the cash register and started firing, police said.

Also during the week, eight persons died in traffic accidents, four died of burns, one died of carbon monoxide poisoning and one was killed in an airplane crash.

Never Plan for Plane Cover

DETROIT (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy says "there never was any plan to have United States air cover" for the Bay of Pigs invasion of Cuba in April 1961.

In a copyright interview by Knight Newspapers Inc. appearing today in the Detroit Free Press and other Knight newspapers, the attorney general said the fact that "there was not sufficient air cover at the beach" was one of "several major mistakes" responsible for the failure of the attempt to liberate Cuba.

David Kraslow of the Knight newspapers' Washington bureau staff reported that Kennedy insisted repeatedly that responsibility for the failure of the Cuban invasion rests with the President.

The President has taken responsibility for the failure and that's as it should be," the attorney general was quoted as saying. "He approved the plan."

Kraslow said the attorney general insisted there was never any promise of air cover and denied reports that the President reneged at the last moment on air cover for the Cuban invaders.

Figures Slash to Add to U.S. Revenues

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy told Congress today that cutting taxes, despite a huge deficit, is "the best way open to us to increase revenues."

Kennedy devoted the annual economic report, last of his three major messages to the new Congress, to allaying the fears of those legislators who called his fiscal program — the heaviest spending and biggest tax cut in history — "incredible," "a mistake," and "too big." In the process he revealed a few more details of the tax program he will send to Congress next Thursday.

If the country should slide into recession this year through failure to reduce taxes, the President said, the prospective $11.9-billion deficit would worsen and perhaps "break all peacetime deficit records."

By contrast, Kennedy predicted, the planned $13.5-billion tax reduction will add $8.5 billion a year to families' income, boost output of consumer items by $16 billion, increase profits, and encourage business investment.

He promised: "As the economy returns to full employment, the budget will return to constructive balance."

While urging tax reduction as insurance against recession, Kennedy did not predict a slump. On the contrary, he forecast "moderate expansion" in 1963 to a record $773 billion of national output, up 4½ per cent from last year.

Already, he reported, the recovery from the depths of recession 22 months ago has halted the postwar trend of ever more frequent recessions. But the gains are "frustratingly" short of the strides that are needed, he said.

The message went on: "I do not expect a fifth post-war recession to interrupt our progress in 1963."

"It is not the fear of recession but the fact of five years of excessive unemployment, unused capacity and slack profits—and the consequent hobbling of our growth rate—that constitutes the urgent case for tax reduction and reform."

Legislature Starts Its Second Week

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Legislature, after an uneventful first week's session, is expected to get down to brass tacks this week—considering and enacting bills.

Only two bills became law last week—and those were measures appropriating money for Senate and House operating expenses.

Most legislators continue to feel that this will be a comparatively tame session and only one thing—school consolidation—was mentioned last week which might prove otherwise.

Sens. Clarence Bell of Parkin and W. K. Ingram of West Memphis introduced a bill to set up consolidation study commissions in each county. The bill is aimed at promoting consolidation by showing school patrons how they could have a better educational program.

In the House, Pulaski Rep. J. H. Cottrell Jr., introduced a bill which would reduce state aid to smaller districts—many of which have only enough money for a marginal program.

Cottrell's proposal would give state aid on a strict per pupil basis. Under the current aid formula, the per pupil aid to small, poor districts is sometimes 2½ times that given to larger, wealthy districts.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus presented a program based on an increase to the maximum welfare grant, some reorganization of the state department, a compromise on truck weights and a new amendment for city-county financing at a local level.

Legislators generally felt the program would have smooth sailing through both bodies.

Bradley Rep. Bill Wells introduced the first bill designed to force the state Highway Department to take county roads into the state highway system. Several of these are expected.

Wells would have the department annex eight miles of road in each county each year for the next 10 years. It would result in extending the highway system by 6,000 miles during the period.

A highway department spokesman says a compromise bill was worked out which would require the department to take 10 miles of roads in each county for the next two years with the highway commission deciding which roads to be taken.

Winter Hits Vast Sections Across U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Winter's brand of rough weather — numbing cold, snow and freezing rain — extended across vast sections of the nation today, a repeat of last week's miserable climatic conditions.

Frigid weather held tight across the nation's midsection. Temperatures dropped to more than 30 degrees below zero in northern areas. It was near zero southward into sections of Kentucky and eastward to the Ohio Valley.

Freezing weather extended into Texas, with warnings of a hard freeze in southern sections and through the lower Mississippi Valley into parts of Alabama and Georgia. The cold weather threatened citrus groves in the semitropical lower Rio Grande Valley. Southern California again braced for more freezing weather—the ninth straight day of a cold wave that has caused more than $3 million damage to citrus, vegetable and flower crops. The mercury dropped to 41 in Los Angeles Sunday but freezing readings—as low as 12—chilled outlying areas.

A wind-lashed snowstorm off Lake Erie battered broad areas of western New York State Sunday night. Wind gusts up to 50 m.p.h. whipped the snow into blinding clouds, causing heavy drifting and cutting visibility to zero.

Nearly all traffic on more than 100 miles of the New York Thruway was halted for several hours but later some traffic was permitted between Rochester and Buffalo. The storm closed many roads throughout the area.

Freezing drizzle slicked highways in Houston and San Antonio, Tex. A glaze of ice covered sections of northern Alabama. Rain changed to sleet or snow over much of Louisiana and Mississippi, creating hazardous driving conditions.

More snow fell in the snow-covered sections of the Midwest and into the Ohio Valley and sections of Pennsylvania.

At least 15 weather-related deaths were reported—from exposure, fires, and traffic accidents on icy and snow-covered highways.

Kennedy for his policy reversal was that he understood that Kennedy could not persuade the U.S. Senate to ratify a test ban treaty unless their was some provision for on-site inspections.

"If this is the only difficulty on the way to agreement," he wrote, "then for the noble and humane goal of ceasing nuclear weapon tests we are ready to meet you half way in this question."

Kennedy replied that the right of inspection at some of the sites where a sneak nuclear test might have been held is essential not only because of congressional concern but because of the need to have "a reliable agreement."

Khrushchev said his deputy foreign minister, Vasily V. Kuznetsov, was told by U.S. Ambassador Arthur Dean last October that the U.S. government would consider two to four on-site inspections a year to be sufficient.

Kennedy replied that Dean actually had said the United States would require eight to 10 inspections, which was a reduction from the 12 to 20 previously demanded by the United States. Kennedy made clear that the total Khrushchev offered was not enough.

Won't Ask for Film Money

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state Publicity and Parks Commission has decided not to ask for a supplemental legislative appropriation to pay the balance on a film promoting Arkansas.

The decision was announced Saturday following a meeting of the commission members and Gov. Orval E. Faubus and was referred until the Feb. 1 commission meeting.

The film cost $80,000. The commission underwrote half of the cost. The remainder was to come from private sources and cities. It has not been released for public viewing.

The commission said only $20,500 came in from private sources leaving a balance of $39,500. Producer Kalmon Weinstein has agreed to reduce this to $29,500, the commission said.

Faubus termed the 12 minute color travelogue, "Wonders of Arkansas," superior to those of other states he has seen.

The commission also deferred action on a request from a Russellville and Pope County delegation that it accept a 130-acre recreational area on the Dardanelle Reservoir for development.

DR. PRUITT'S BODY

THE STORY: Matt Bacon makes up a list of suspects, one of which probably is the murderer of Dr. Pruitt.

"Matt, I'm at Belle Pruitt's. She wants to talk to you." "Something she didn't tell the police?" Matt asked. "I don't know," Suzy said. "She said she'd like to talk to you." Matt looked at his watch. It was after 7:30. "I can be out in half an hour." "The Johnsons are coming over later. You can talk to her before they arrive."

Matt jotted down the address. A few minutes after eight, he pulled his car up to a modern, one-story, well furnished house. Suzy opened the door. She smiled warmly, took Matt's hat and coat, hung them in a closet, then ushered the detective into a large, comfortable living room.

An attractive woman in her middle forties, sat on a divan in the center of the room. A girl of high school age was beside her and a young man was in a chair facing her.

Suzy introduced the woman as Belle Pruitt. The girl was her daughter Esther, and the young man her son, Ronald, who had come home from college as soon as he heard of his father's disappearance. The young people exis partly right. My married life has never been as smooth and untroubled as it must have appeared to others — even to our closest friends."

"Tell me about your husband, Mrs. Pruitt," Matt said quietly. "It was not really a bad marriage, Mr. Bacon. It was happier than some, not as happy as others. Chester taught physics in a university which I was attending to qualify myself for radio astronomy."

"Ronald was born and then came the war. Chester went to Oak Ridge to help develop the atom bomb. Esther was born there."

"I gave up all thoughts of a career then. About six years ago Chester had a chance to come to the Lakeland Research Laboratory. I thought it would be wonderful to live in Lakeland."

"But Chester was growing more and more preoccupied with his work. He couldn't talk about it and when he did, I could barely understand him. You know, it takes a great deal of study to keep abreast of developments. And Chester was on the frontier of everything."

"The children were old enough to develop their own interests and they spoke a different language, too. I had to get an outside interest, so I took up radio as a hobby. A poor substitute for a husband."

"We had a falling out. It wasn't a violent quarrel. Chester was a temper, but he was never violent. I told him that he must act as a husband, or I would go away. I did leave. I even got a court order for separate maintenance and lived with my mother for about a year. After her death, Chester came out to California and brought me and the children home. I was glad."

Says Meredith May Leave Ole Miss

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said today "the chances at the present time" are that Negro student James H. Meredith will not remain at the University of Mississippi.

Kennedy, in a copyrighted interview in U.S. News and World Report, did not say when he thinks Meredith, the first Negro knowingly enrolled at "Ole Miss," will leave.

But the implication was that it might be at the end of the current semester. Meredith stated on Jan. 7 he would not register for the new term unless there were improvements in his situation. He has undergone serious student harassment and been guarded by U.S. troops.

Meredith's enrollment at the university last year touched off a riot in which two persons were killed and federal troops were called to restore order.

Asked if he thinks Meredith will stay at the university Kennedy said:

"I hope he does, but I have some serious questions to whether he will or not. The chances at the present time are that he will leave."

Kennedy said he does not think Meredith's enrollment was a mistake.

"I think we demonstrated that this is a country of laws—not of men—and that the laws of the United States and the orders of the courts will be enforced," Kennedy said.

Kennedy repeated a hope he had expressed earlier that Meredith would not leave.

Story About Stevenson Is Defended

NEW YORK (AP) — Stewart Alsop, coauthor of a controversial article on Adlai E. Stevenson's position in the Cuban crisis, defended the story today and said Stevenson's official spokesman was consulted three times before it was written.

Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, was pictured in the article in the Saturday Evening Post last month as having disagreed with President Kennedy's advisers on the Cuban blockade.

It also said he "preferred political negotiation to the alternative of military action."

Writing in the current issue of the Saturday Evening Post, Alsop said he and Charles Bartlett, co-authors of the article, had three lengthy talks with Clayton Fritchey, special assistant to Stevenson.

He said Fritchey summarized as follows the position Stevenson took at a meeting of Executive Committee members of the National Security Council:

"Stevenson's general approach was to avoid military action until the peace-keeping machinery of the United Nations had a chance to function. He therefore opposed the air attack and favored a blockade."

"As the consensus hardened on the quarantine approach, he turned his thoughts toward the possibility of a settlement, both short term and long range. He wanted all nuclear capability defused and the (Cuban) bases dismantled."

"He said that if it were necessary to sweeten up our negotiating position at this point, we might even consider yielding the Guantanamo base. As a final point, he suggested a proposition saw Suzy standing in the doorway and wondered how long she'd been there.

"Coffee's ready, Belle," she said. "Shall I bring it in?" "Yes, my dear," said Belle Pruitt. "Mr. Bacon and I have finished our talk."

stream would be swollen as corporations — also beneficiaries of tax relief—increase dividend payments. The rising demand would call for greater output and more factory hiring—and hence, he said, more income and still more spending.

Special tax relief for small businesses would be retroactive to Jan. 1, 1963, he disclosed. This would be a full year ahead of the start of the basic corporate tax rate reductions from 52 per cent to 47 per cent, a $2.5-billion cut.

Corporations now pay 30 per cent on their first $25,000 of income plus an additional 22 per cent on the rest for a total of 52 per cent. Kennedy said that, as of the start of this year, the rate on the first $25,000 would be dropped to 22 per cent, but the 52 per cent over-all rate would be retained for 1963.

Thus companies with small earnings would benefit quickly.

As if in direct response to congressional critics who challenged his plan for a $10-billion net tax reduction in the face of a deficit-laden $98.8-billion budget, Kennedy stressed the need to put idle men, mines and factories back to work.

The anticipated deficit would be roughly three-fourths as big as is now anticipated even if taxes were not reduced, Kennedy said, because a slack economy is not producing enough taxable income and profits.

An effort to cut the deficit by drastic curtailment of spending would be "self-defeating," he said; it would not only endanger the national security but would depress demand, production and employment so that revenues would fall "and leave the government budget still in deficit."

The President did not renew his request for standby antirecession powers, made in his economic message last year and rejected by Congress. But he gave notice that, when this session's major tax overhaul is finished, he will push again for the standby powers to cut taxes temporarily, and speed up public works spending, at the onset of a recession.

100 Hurt in Commuter Train Crash

By LEE LINDER

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A Reading Railroad commuter train plowed into the back end of another one at a midcity station today. Dr. Savena Brunetti, chief police and fire department surgeon, said 100 or more persons were taken to hospitals, most of them for treatment of slight injuries.

Two girls were trapped in a coach, their legs jammed in a twisted wreckage. One of them was freed by a rescue crew and workmen were trying to release the other.

The crash occurred at the 10th and Spring Garden Street station. A special Jenkintown shuttle train necessitated by the citywide transit strike, rammed into a crowded train from Chestnut Hill.

A woman riding the Chestnut Hill train related, "It was terrible. All of a sudden there was this terrific noise, there were all piling on top of one another."

Mary Day, 20-year-old secretary, who was aboard the Chestnut Hill train, said, "A few women started to yell, 'what's happened,' but there was no real panic or anything like that."

She said many of the passengers, shaken up like herself but not actually hurt, stumbled out onto the station platform in the 15-degree cold and sat down wherever they could find a perch, or just walked around to compose themselves.

Spokesman for the railroad said they had not determined the cause of the accident.

Approves Two State Projects

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Department of Health, Education and Welfare today announced approval of grants, totaling $5,203,589 for 27 projects under its accelerated public works program, including Arkansas projects at Flippin and Mount Ida.

The program is designed to help speed up projects which would aid in providing immediate useful work in labor surplus areas.

Some of the grants include funds from the Water Pollution and Hill-Burton health facilities programs. Flippin is scheduled to receive $54,350 under the public works program and $27,175 under the water pollution program. The money will be used to construct an interceptor, outfall and lift stations, a force main and a lagoon. Mount Ida is to receive $69,000 and $34,500 for construction of a sewage treatment plant.

to the U.S.S.R. to discuss the elimination of foreign bases in connection with the disarmament negotiations."

Light Snow in North Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Light snow flurries were reported this morning in northeast Arkansas as temperatures around the state hovered in the low teens and 20s.

A cold front extended from central Virginia through northern Alabama and southern Arkansas this morning, and colder weather was forecast for Wednesday. Precipitation was expected to be of little consequence, but a few very light snow flurries were predicted.

Traces of precipitation were reported at Harrison, El Dorado and Pine Bluff during the 24-hour period ending today at 8 a.m.

DOROTHY DIX

This Family A Closed Corporation

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: Shouldn't there be a limit to family ties? We have friends who are headed for tragedy unless something can be done to change their over-possessiveness.

The three, two sons and a daughter, live only for each other, at least they did until recently. If one went to a party, you were sure to see the other two close by. They came and went together. Small wonder that, though in their forties, all three were still unmarried.

We tried inviting one without the other two but that didn't work. Then to our everlasting relief the younger brother started dating a lovely girl.

"Wonderful!" said everybody. We reckoned without that sister. She is deliberately working to break up the romance; calls the poor girl on the phone and says the brother is needed at home.

That's sheer nonsense. The family is well-to-do. They live in a comfortable house, have two servants, a couple; the wife cooks, the husband waits on table and acts as chauffeur. So the sister lacks for nothing yet she can't bear to see that younger brother going his way — not hers — for a change.

Why must she be so possessive? Isn't this an unnatural and selfish attitude on the part of the sister? She has a fiendish temper. I fear for the unsuspecting girl. Should I warn her? Also, I'm sorry for the brother. — Worried

Dear Worried: For you to make an issue of this strange family's abnormal, ingrown relationship would only cause them to beat a further retreat. They sound like characters out of a Henry James novel.

If you are a real friend and willing to take the time and trouble you might, by using the oblique approach, coax them out of their shell, as you would shy, untamed little animals.

Begin inviting each to your home separately. If they turn you down, keep on trying. Find out what the sister is interested in aside from her brothers. Send her some little gift pertaining to this interest. If it's gardening it could be a special plant or package of seed; if reading, a recently published book.

Introduce her to people who share her interests. Encourage the "poor" girl by giving an informal party in her honor and asking the brother to escort her. In other words, prove you are a friend, not a critic. To stick out your neck by meddling in the affairs of others is a risky business and only justified if you honestly care what happens to them. Your diagnosis of the situation indicates you do.

The danger lies in overplaying your hand. If the brother and girl are sufficiently attracted, nothing in this whole wide world can keep them apart.

Dear Helen: I've been married 15 years and never once saw a man outside of my husband I'd give two cents for until three years ago. God forgive me, I let this man sweep me off my feet! Long before the baby was born

I told my husband everything. Being a saint on earth, he promised to treat the baby as if it were his own. Now the father of my baby is two-timing with a girl friend of his wife's. I told the girl how he sweet-talked me. She won't believe it. She has three little children.

Should I tell my ex-lover's wife? She and he have two youngsters. Should I tell her about me?

By admitting my sin I know now that I am a Christian. Having made myself right with my husband, I feel I must make myself right with this man's wife. How shall I do it? —Heart Aches

Dear Heart Aches: Confession may be good for your soul, but it certainly wouldn't be for the others involved in this shabby business. Your ex-lover's wife won't believe you any more than his current flame does. Admitting your sin to these women savors of revenge, not Christianity. Kissing and telling doesn't absolve you. For the sake of your husband and child, close the chapter.

Dear Helen: My heart went out to "Ugly Duckling" whose sad letter you recently published. You can't love kids. If her parents had any love for her, she would know it. Their vanity is stung because they produced an Ugly Duckling. "Laugh at yourself," you say. "Be outgoing! Snap out of that black mood." Sure, just like that!

Can a water lily grow in a desert? This sarcasm isn't meant for you, Helen. The fault lies with our social scheme.

We Americans want things (and people) to be pretty. Ugly ducklings wouldn't realize they were ugly until society let them know it. Of course "Ugly Duckling" should not talk of suicide. She must tell herself, "I may be homely but I shall rise above mere physical beauty by improving my mind."

Intelligent people don't judge others by their mere physical appearance. Unfortunately, there are all too few intelligent people in our middle class society. —Mrs. P. K. Montgomery, Tacoma, Wash.

Dear Mrs. Montgomery: I appreciate your fine letter as I'm sure "Ugly Duckling" will if she happens to read it.

But I can't agree about there being all too few sensitive, intelligent people in our middle class society. Most of us are surprisingly sensitive to the physical infirmities of others. Have you ever noticed how busy people pushing and shoving through the crowds will stop to help a blind person across the street, or deliberately look the other way when meeting somebody whose face is distorted by a birthmark? Only the unintelligent are insensitive.

Have you a problem? Perhaps Helen Worden Erskine can help you. Write her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery. In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation 119. At all drug counters.

MEDICINE CHEST

"LEFTOVERS"

There's but one good place in the home for "leftovers." That's the refrigerator—and the "leftovers" should be foods, not medicines.

Medicine chest "leftovers" are risky at best, and often downright dangerous. The medicine your physician prescribed a year or so ago was intended to be used then, not now. Avoid serious danger—dump old medicine at once.

Four Grants to Arkansas Cities

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four grants for Arkansas cities—two for Pine Bluff and one each for Mount Ida and Ashdown — have been approved by the Health, Education and Welfare Department.

The Pine Bluff grants are $16,561 for the Arkansas Vocational Technical School and $32,500 for Pine Bluff School District No. 3. The Mount Ida loan—$34,500—is to help finance a sewage plant and water pollution program and the $17,480 loan to Ashdown is for Public School District 31.

I wish to thank everyone for all the kindness and sympathy shown during the loss of my mother, Mrs. Beulah Stoy.

Charcoal Is Big Business in Arkansas

By GEORGE F. BARTSCH Associated Press Staff Writer

Lazy spirals of white smoke rising out of the forests of Arkansas' ozark Mountains may look suspicious to out-of-state motorists familiar with the stereotyped image of the mountaineer guarding his still from "revenuers."

But the smoke is a symbol of one of the area's most profitable—and legitimate—enterprises. It comes from hickory and oak logs smoldering in charcoal kilns.

One of the largest of these plants is the Bull Mountain Charcoal Enterprise, owned and operated by Earl Braley, a retired electrical contractor from Chicago.

Braley operates six kilns at his plant, which is located two miles from Bull Shoals on state Highway 178. He and five employees fire 1,500 tons of charcoal a year in the kilns, which resemble huge storm cellars equipped with galvanized exhaust pipes.

The plant shuts down in November and December each year for repairs and improvements and because charcoal's chief use—backyard barbecuing—is out of season. It reopens in January to begin preparing for the next summer's demands. Last year's 10-month operation gave Braley a gross income of $40,000.

The kilns, 20 by 30 by 15 feet, are excavated in the side of a hill. Roofs and sides are reinforced with steel and concrete. Each kiln has ten flue pipes protruding six feet from the top of the mound.

Each kiln is stacked with 54 cords of 4-foot logs, mostly hickory. Actually, Braley explained, oak produces the best charcoal, but the hickory provides flavor and aroma. Sassafras also is good for aroma, but Braley doesn't use it because it is soft, won't char properly and produces charcoal that is too light. Most of the wood he uses comes from local forests.

In the center of each kiln, a 6-foot square area in the center of the building is filled, the logs are set afire with oil-soaked tow sacks stuffed into the center area. Electric fans create a draft which allows the wood to smol-

Hopes for Strike End at Paragould

PARAGOUL, Ark. (AP)—Fires of hope for a settlement of the seven-month strike at the Emerson Electric Co. here have been fanned by the announcement that the union and company are planning to talk about the situation.

The strike began last June 20 when more than 200 workers walked off their jobs because they wanted average earnings instead of base pay for holidays and vacations and more health insurance benefits, among other things.

Since that time, according to a union official, the plant has been picketed "24 hours a day, seven days a week."

Jim Dishingier, regional manager for Emerson, says the strike situation has not changed since last June 27—the deadline he set for the workers to return to work or lose their jobs. The workers did not return and were replaced.

Dishingier said Saturday however, that he had agreed to meet with union representatives within the next 14 days in an effort to end the dispute.

der for eight days. After cooling for two weeks, the charred logs are ready for sale to briquette manufacturing plants.

Most of Braley's sales are to plants in Salem, Bronson and Galena, Mo., although he occasionally sells to a briquette producer in Cotter, Ark., the Standard Milling Co.

At the processing plants, the wood is pulverized and mixed with a solution of starch and water. This pasty substance is poured into a mechanical press which produces uniform charcoal briquettes.

The pellets are sacked into five and 10-pound bags for distribution throughout the United States.

But all is not moonlight and roses in the charcoal industry. Braley said a rapid increase in the number of processing plants had caused a glut on the market.

In addition, he no longer cuts small hickory limits into chips for sale to real outdoor cooking connoisseurs. There's not much demand for the chips, he said.

Braley also operates a 4-cabin resort and a trailer park near Bull Shoals Lake.

The plant is back in full production now after cutting down for a period to train new workers. In fact, Dishingier says, "production is about 10 per cent above what it was when the strike began."

It's a different story for the majority of the 215 workers — most are still out of work.

"About three have been rehired," said Wilson Hunt, president of the striking Local 767 of the International Union of Electrical Workers. "Some have found jobs in other cities, others work parttime—but about 175 have no jobs at all."

The strike apparently had little effect on the economy of Paragould and Greene County. The plant's production is high and any losses suffered during the months of retraining have been absorbed.

Cats, Kittens Win District Contests

By CARTER HARDAGE

Saturday, Hope's Junior and Senior Boys traveled to Magnolia and overpowered their opponents in both games. The Bobkittens won 50-38, while the Cats downed the Panthers 52-36.

In their game, the Juniors had little trouble knocking the Cubs about 50-38. The Kittens quickly took the lead and dominated the entire game. They were ahead 8-5 after the Quarter and a big 24-13 at the Half. Keeping ahead at 39-30, they finished 50-38. Ronnie Ingram was high with a big 17 points, Parris had 12, Ramsey had 9, Watkins 7, and McGill 5.

Although it was a rough ride, the Bobcats managed to take Magnolia 52-36. Taking an early 7-4 lead, Hope went on to lead 26-6 at the Half. Still alternating teams, Hope still led 37-22 at the Quarter and the final buzzer found Hope in the lead 52-36. Mac McLarty summed up the comments of the players by saying, "It was rough."

Dan Jones led Hope's many scorers with 10 points. Others scoring were: Russell 9, Murphy 8, Porterfield 7, Burnett 6, Mayfield 4, McLarty 3, Purdie and Allen 2, and Foster 1.

Also, the Junior Second team got murdered 68-19 in the Emmet County Finals by Blevins. Hope took Second Place Trophy.

This week Hope has two Conference games Junior and Senior Boys go to Fairview Friday for a tough battle, and Crossett visits here Saturday. Both should be good games.

Celtics End W in Streak for Lakers

BOSTON (AP)—The Celtics' dressing room was a picture of exhaustion. Bill Russell, sitting like a corkscrew, passed a long, bony finger over his aching jaw and gave a capsule analysis of the 133-121 National Basketball Association victory over Los Angeles.

"We did it. Now I can go home and sleep."

Boston had just ended an 11-game winning streak for Los Angeles. The Celtics, who had whipped the Lakers in overtime of the seventh playoff game for the NBA title last spring, had lost three of their previous four decisions with Los Angeles this season.

On the surface, the Russell figures were impressive enough—29 points, 43 rebounds, a dozen blocked shots, five intercepted passes, three assists and a full 48 minutes of competition.

To make it more dramatic, add the fact he'd been knocked unconscious momentarily in the third period when his mouth and jaw collided with cracking impact against another player's head. Russ got a split tongue and lip, a sore jaw and a foul called against him on that maneuver.

Also in the NBA Sunday—the St. Louis Hawks barely edged San Francisco 116-115, even though the Warriors went all but the first 4 minutes without their super-star Wilt Chamberlain, and the Chicago Zephyrs ran off from the Cincinnati Royals 113-93.

In other Saturday games, St. Louis edged San Francisco 116-114 and Cincinnati beat New York 114-108.

Tonight's only game has Detroit at Los Angeles.

Aged Golfer Adds Another to His String

By BEN FUNK

PORT ST. LUCIE, Fla. (AP)—Long-hitting John Barnum, who at 51 is a golfer in a class by himself, has added another tournament to his string, and there's no telling how long he'll stick around to play the youngsters in the sport.

The 6-foot-3½ former Texan now working for the Blythefield Country Club in Belmont, Mich., whipped Ansel Snow and Chick Harbert in a "sudden death" playoff Sunday to win the PGA's $25,000 National Golf Club championship.

It was no surprise, for mild-mannered John had proved himself still as tough a competitor as many of the young fellows by winning the Cajun Classic in November in Louisiana.

Thus, he became the first pro to win a major tournament on the PGA tour after passing his 50th birthday.

He came to the end of the regulation 72-hole round Sunday in a deadlock with Snow, 40-year-old pro from Keswick, Va., and Harbert, 48-year-old director of Port St. Lucie's Country Club. All had 281, seven under par for the windswept, 7,010-yard course.

They started around again to play it off, but the 225-pound Barnum, steady as a rock under pressure, needed only the 325-yard first hole to dispose of his challengers.

Big John lashed a beautiful tee shot arrow true down the middle of the fairway, located the green with his second shot, putted from 35 feet and then calmly dropped an easy 2-footer for his winning birdie.

Barnum beat 518 other players, the biggest field in PGA tournament history. He won $1,700 and Snow and Harbert took home $1,250 each.

Billy Casper Wins Crosby Golf Show

By P. D. ELDRED
Associated Press Sports Writer

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—A superb wedge shot, almost as spectacular as the 140-yard eagle which won him the 1958 Crosby championship, brought victory again to quick-hitting Billy Casper and sent him away from Pebble Beach today $5,300 richer in Bing's famed $50,000 golf show.

The tremendous wedge recovery shot from 75 yards out on the treacherous 18th hole along Pebble Beach's rockbound coast, laid Billy's ball a foot from the pin for a vital par 5. As it turned out the shot put decisive pressure on husky U.S. Open champion Jack Nicklaus and the determined little South African, Gary Player.

Nicklaus found himself with a 30-foot putt to win at the 18th, missed it and slid six feet past the cup. Usually deadly accurate from that distance, Nicklaus missed the six-footer, took a bogey 6 and finished in a second-place tie with Player, who missed a 12-foot putt he needed to tie Casper.

In grabbing first honors with a final 2-over-74 for a four-round total of 285, Casper earned the distinction of being the first pro ever to win the Crosby twice over the 72-hole tour.

When the firing ended at the 18th, where Arnold Palmer capped a disastrous round by taking a horrible 9 after shooting into Monterey Bay, there were five players tied at 286 for second place—Nicklaus, Player, Bob Rosburg, Dave Hill and Art Wall. It was worth $2,145 to each of them.

All-time money winner Palmer, who was announced as the world's greatest golfer at the start of the final round Sunday and promptly reminded the announcer that "you should have seen me Saturday," learned after the finish Sunday just how disastrous Saturday had been.

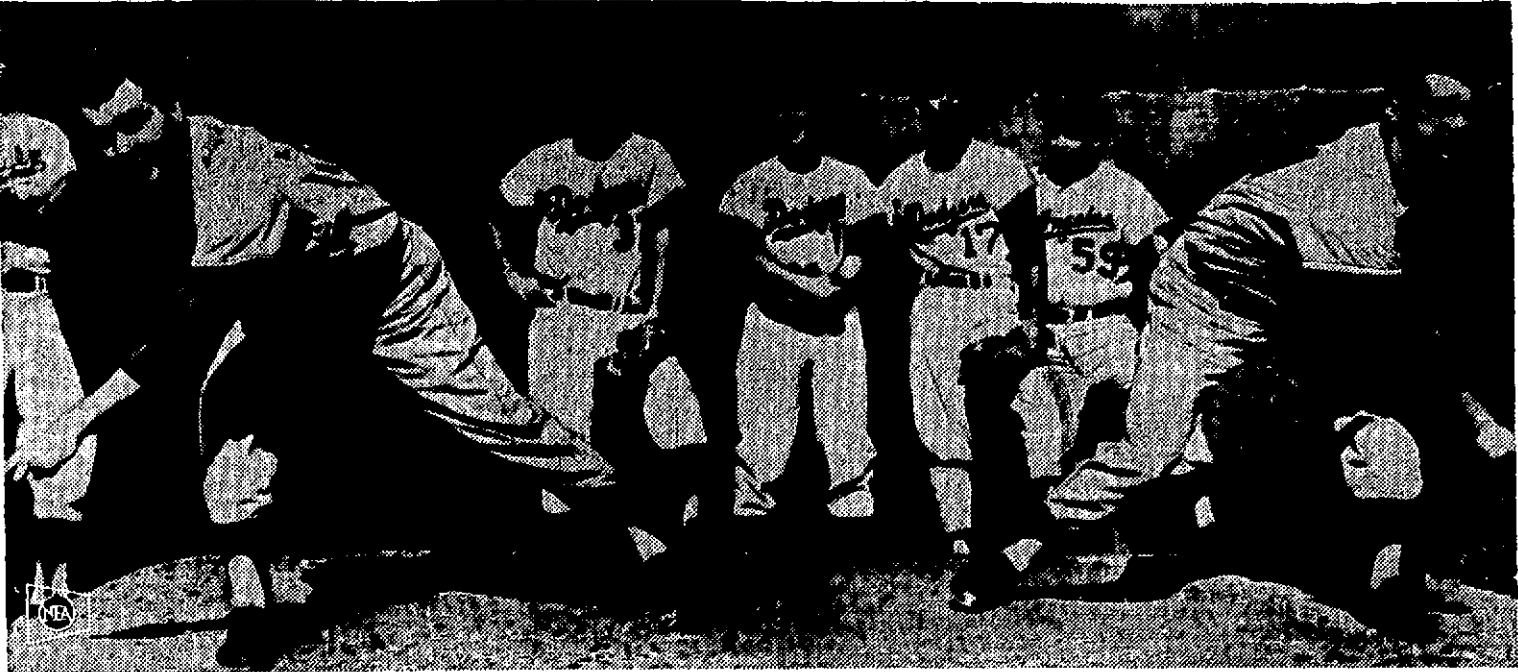

A technical misinterpretation of a ruling on the par 3 17th at Pebble Beach caused Palmer's disqualification from the tournament and four days of hard work for the exercise.

Superb Victory by Veteran

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The battle of the 4-minute millers will go down as a novelty but hardly an epic, observers agreed today in the wake of a superb victory by veteran Jim Grelle in the feature event of the Los Angeles Invitational Indoor Meet.

The Los Angeles Track Club's performer got in a last lap lick to overhaul Lt. Cary Weisiger of the Camp Pendleton, Calif., Marines, as three others, all members of the expanding sub 4-minute mile club, trailed rather poorly.

The winning time was 4 minutes 4.3 seconds. It bettered the record of 4:04.8, but it didn't breach the Sports Arena record.

Bearcats Are Unchallenged in Cage Play

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Take Cincinnati's mighty Bearcats and go on from there when evaluating the current college basketball season.

Cincinnati stands unchallenged as the nation's top club, has the upper hand in the tough Missouri Valley Conference, and appears capable of rolling to an unprecedented third straight national championship.

The Bearcats, with their 14-0 record and 32-game winning string, are running true to preseason prognostications.

Here is how the major conference pictures look:

Missouri Valley-Cincinnati took a big one Thursday, winning at Bradley after five straight losses there in as many seasons.

Big Ten—Illinois, 4-0 in the league and 12-1 over-all, seems the class this season but the challengers are many. Defending champion Ohio State, after a fast start, began to stagger and was whipped by Iowa Saturday 81-74.

Big Eight—Colorado is 4-0 and running ahead for its second title in a row.

Southeastern—Mississippi State Auburn and Georgia Tech are 1-2-3 and have impressive over-all marks. It was Mississippi State 78-64 over Mississippi, Auburn 81-78 over Alabama in overtime and Georgia Tech 70-55 over non-conference Florida State Saturday.

Tennessee trimmed Kentucky 78-69 in overtime, dropping Adolph Rupp's Wildcats into a tie for fourth.

Atlantic Coast—Duke and Wake Forest share the lead at 6-0, with North Carolina right behind at 5-1 after Saturday's 86-81 decision over Virginia.

Southern—Perennial power West Virginia shaded Virginia Tech 86-83 Saturday for an 8-0 conference record, putting the Mountaineers almost out of sight of the rest of the league.

Big Six—Stanford took firm control over the weekend by beating contender Washington twice, 57-48 and 58-49. The Indians' too competition probably will be UCLA and Southern California.

Western Athletic—Wyoming topped nationally ranked Arizona State 88-81 Saturday, meaning the Sun Devils are in for a battle in the new conference after all.

Southwest—Texas in front at 4-0 and Texas A&M next at 3-1, but this scramble almost inevitably goes down to the wire.

Middle Atlantic—LaSalle, St. Joseph's and Temple probably will fight it out, as expected. LaSalle beat Seton Hall 89-80 and Temple nipped Villanova 50-49 Saturday in non-conference games.

Ivy League—Penn was upset by Cornell 78-76 Friday but roared back Saturday, ripping Columbia 86-66 and holding onto the lead.

Pro Fullback Undergoing Tests

which also happens to be the national indoor mark of 358.9.

The two records belong to little Jim Beatty, who skipped the meet to accept a national Junior Chamber of Commerce award in Little Rock, Ark.

Weisiger's time was 4:05.9, and trailing behind were Bill Dalton of Kansas, Finland's Olof Salonen and Bob Seaman.

Black Hawks Going After Montreal

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If the Chicago Black Hawks succeed in breaking Montreal's hold on first place in the National Hockey League this season, the hapless New York Rangers must be given an unwelcome assist.

The muscular Black Hawks rapped New York 6-2 Sunday night—the ninth straight time they've beaten the Rangers—and moved two points ahead of Montreal in the struggle for the top spot.

Montreal, which has led the league in regular season play for five consecutive seasons, tied Boston 3-3 while Toronto and Detroit skated to a 2-2 tie in the other games.

Chicago now leads Montreal 54 points to 52, but the Canadiens have two games in hand. Toronto is third with 49 points and Detroit fourth with 47.

The Black Hawks, who own almost half their regular season victories over New York, got two goal efforts from Stan Mikita and Eric Nesterenko in the relatively easy triumph.

In Saturday games, Chicago whipped Toronto 4-1, Montreal blasted Detroit 5-1 and New York beat Boston 5-3.

Old Solider Ends Fuss in Athletics

NEW YORK (AP)—The popular indoor winter track season geared to resume full activities today in the wake of an AAU/NCAA peace settlement negotiated by old soldier Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

"The real winners are the athletes," President John F. Kennedy said in Washington Sunday in congratulating the 32-year-old, five-star general for quick settlement of the 2½ year dispute which had threatened the 1964 U.S. Olympic team.

It was that threat which prompted the President to call on MacArthur to step into the squabble between the two groups, locked in a power struggle for control of amateur athletics.

The truce was hammered out in two days of closed door conferences in the general's suite in the Waldorf Towers. The windup was a nine-hour, no-break session Saturday.

The main points were spelled out in a statement by MacArthur to the rival delegates. They include:

1. Discrimination against the full use of available facilities and all athletes for scheduled athletic meets be lifted.

2. A six-man Olympic eligibility board, consisting of three members of the AAU and three from the NCAA-backed U.S. track and field federation, be set up to pass on Olympic candidates.

3. In case of disagreement, problems to be referred to General MacArthur.

4. A recommendation to the President that, if needed, after the 1964 Olympics, a meeting of sports officials and interested parties be called to work out a permanent solution for the conduct of American amateur sports.

5. The role of the new track federation be clearly defined as The governing body only for events covering athletes still in school. The AAU's position as official sanctioning agent for open meets and for international affairs remain unchanged.

HOOPLA—One reason Loyola University of Chicago's basketball team is rated second in the nation is this special practice basket which has an inner ring to sharpen shooting. Coach George Ireland, top, is keeping an eye on, top to bottom, Vic Rouse, Ron Miller, Leslie Hunter, Johnny Egan and Jerry Harkness as they try to beat the gadget.

Herb Score Remains a Question

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

"I want no alibis. I don't deserve them. I'm just not pitching the way I used to."

Herb Score has been saying the same thing for six years. No many believe him.

Score, who at 23 was worth a million dollars, now is 29 and a question-mark commodity as he prepares for another comeback after signing his 1963 baseball contract with the Chicago White Sox over the weekend.

On May 7, 1957, Score lay crumpled at the pitchers' mound after a line drive from Gil McDougald's bat struck him in the right eye, endangering his eye, sight and a blossoming career.

The left-handed hurler has never regained the form that made him a 20-game winner in 1956.

Score, however, attributes his pitching failure, to an arm injury suffered in 1958.

Now he's back for still another try at the majors.

Also signing was Pittsburgh right-hander Vern Law, who has been bothered by a sore arm for years. Law, 32, posted a 20-9 record in 1960 as the Pirates won the National League pennant and World Series. Then his arm went bad.

He was 3-4 while working in only 11 games during 1961. Last year Law made a start on the road back. He appeared in 23 games with a 10-7 record and a creditable 3.95 earned run average.

The Pirates also signed outfielder Ron Woods and catcher Carl Taylor.

Others signing were pitchers Bob Gordon and Dennis McLain and first baseman Grover (Deacon) Jones of the White Sox, outfielder Lee Thomas of the Los Angeles, catcher Dick Brown of Baltimore and second baseman Dick McAuliffe and outfielder Mickey Stanley of Detroit.

U.S. Claims Personal Income Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—Personal income—boosted by a big jump in wages and salaries, reached a peak of $440.5 billion in 1962, the government reported today.

The record total exceeded 1961 income by $24 billion.

The Commerce Department said that with individual income and other personal taxes up $5 billion, receipts available for spending and saving increased 5 per cent to $383 billion. And this, it said, was almost entirely a genuine pocketbook increase as consumer prices rose about 1 per cent.

Wages and salaries jumped $17 billion, or 6 per cent over 1961, to $295.8 billion. Manufacturing payrolls increased $6.2 billion to $93.6 billion.

The department attributed most of the increase to recovery from the 1960-61 recession.

In nonmanufacturing industries, $122.5 billion. Government employees at all levels received $56.2 billion, up $4.4 billion over 1961.

Income from such sources as unemployment insurance and Social Security benefits increased about $1 billion to $34.6 billion. Dividends climbed almost $1 billion to $15.9 billion. Personal interest payments totaled $29.7 billion, an increase of $2.3 billion.

Ex-Judge Dies

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Calvin P. Cotham, 90, who became the first judge of the 18th Judicial District in 1911, died in a hospital here last Saturday. He had been hospitalized a week with a concussion suffered when he fell last Monday.
